AN ACT TO ADD A NEW § 34.10(d) AND AMEND §§ 34.30,
34.40, AND 34.50, ALL OF CHAPTER 34, TITLE 9, GUAM
CODE ANNOTATED, RELATIVE TO THE
PREVENTION OF WILDFIRES AND PROSECUTION OF
INDIVIDUALS WHO SET WILDFIRES, WHICH ARE A THREAT TO PERSONS, PROPERTY, AND THE ENVIRONMENT.

1 BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF GUAM:

2 Section 1. Legislative Findings and Intent. I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds
3 that purposefully set wildfires pose a significant threat to life, homes, businesses,

1 and property of the people of Guam, in addition to Guam’s wildlife and environment.
2 As such, the illegal burning of “forest land” must be added as an additional
3 prohibited action under Guam’s arson statute in order to prevent and prosecute this 4 dangerous practice. The language for the definition of “forest land” as proposed in 5 this measure is derived from the California Penal Code and has been in use in
6 California since 1979. California added “forest land” to its arson statute in 1979
7 because of the severe risk of forest fires and “...in many instances a person who sets
8 fire to a wildland area creates a greater threat to life and property than many of the 9 single building unoccupied structures that are the subject of arson.” (Cal. Dept. of
10 Forestry, Analysis of Sen. Bill No. 116 (1979 Gen. Sess.) (June 26, 1979). Guam’s
11 residents have similarly had several close brushes with forest fires in recent months
12 and years, and Guam, like California, has a population living in close proximity to 13 brush and forested areas.

14 I Liheslatura further finds that California has successfully prosecuted
15 arsonists causing forest fires under California’s arson statute since 1979, and three 16 (3) recent cases have upheld the “forest land” provisions within California’s statutes.
17 See People v. Costella, 11 Cal. App. 5th 1, 5–7, (Ct. App. 2017), review denied (Aug.
18 9, 2017), cert. denied, 138 S. Ct. 693 (2018); and In re J.W., No. F076382, 2018 WL
19 5869651, at *2–5 (Cal. Ct. App. 2018). California previously changed its arson
20 statutes to include “forest land” to “...make the statutes more consistent, more
21 understandable, and easier to prosecute.” See David A. Roberti, Chairman, Joint
22 Com. for Revision of the Pen. Code, letter to Governor Edmund G. Brown, Jr., June
23 25, 1979, Sen. Bill No. 116, Ch. 145. Likewise, it is proposed that “forest land” be 24 added to the Guam arson statutes to make the statutes more consistent and easier to 25 apply. By protecting “forest land,” which includes local jungle and grasslands, I
26 Liheslatura aims to keep Guam’s residents, property, and the environment more
27 secure from the dangerous threat of arson. The measure also clarifies that restorative

1 justice, through the Alternative Service Restitution option that is enabled in current
2 law, exists as an option for those convicted of wildfire arson to work directly in
3 reforesting and healing the lands damaged by their actions.

4 Section 2. A new § 34.10(d) is hereby added to Chapter 34 of Title 9, Guam
5 Code Annotated, to read:

6 “(d) Forest land means any brush covered land, cut-over land, forest,
7 grasslands, jungle, or woods.”

8 Section 3. § 34.30 of Chapter 34, Title 9, Guam Code Annotated, is
9 amended to read:

10 “§ 34.30. Arson; Defined & Punished.

11 (a) A person is guilty of arson if under circumstances not amounting
12 to aggravated arson he starts a fire or causes an explosion, whether on his own
13 property, another’s property, or forest land:

14 (1) with the intention of defrauding an insurer; or

15 (2) in reckless disregard of a risk that his conduct will damage
16 or destroy the property of another; or

17 (3) in reckless disregard of a risk that his conduct will damage
18 or destroy forest land.

19 (b) Arson is a third degree felony.”

20 Section 4. § 34.40 of Chapter 34, Title 9, Guam Code Annotated, is
21 amended to read:

22 “§ 34.40. Negligent Burning; Defined & Punished.

23 (a) A person is guilty of negligent burning if he:

24 (1) negligently starts a fire or causes an explosion whether on 25 his own property, another’s property, or forest land, and thereby
26 negligently endangers human life, or negligently places the property of 27 another, or forest land, in danger of damage or destruction; or

1 (2) having started a fire, whether negligently or not, and
2 knowing that its spread will endanger the life or property of another, or
3 forest land, either fails to take reasonable measures to put out or control
4 the fire, or fails to give a prompt fire alarm.

5 (b) Negligent burning is a misdemeanor. If a person guilty of 6 negligent burning is offered Alternative Service Restitution in 7 accordance with Article 6 of Chapter 80, 9 GCA, the restoration of 8 forest lands is an allowable form of restitution or alternative community
9 service.”

10 Section 5. § 34.50 of Chapter 34, Title 9, Guam Code Annotated, is
11 amended to read:

12 “§ 34.50. Criminal Mischief; Defined.

13 A person commits criminal mischief if:

14 (a) under circumstances not amounting to arson he damages
15 or destroys property with the intention of defrauding an insurer; or

16 (b) he intentionally tampers with the property of another or
17 forest land and thereby:

18 (1) recklessly endangers human life; or

19 (2) recklessly causes or threatens a substantial
20 interruption or impairment of any public utility service; or

21 (c) he intentionally damages the property of another or forest
22 land; or

23 (d) he intentionally damages the motor vehicle of another.”

24 Section 6. Effective Date. This Act shall be effective upon enactment.

25 Section 7. Severability. If any provision of this Act or its application to any 26 person or circumstance is found to be invalid or contrary to law, such invalidity shall 27 not affect other provisions or applications of this Act that can be given effect without

1 the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are 2 severable.
