Article 1. Legislative Finding and Intent; Baby Alexya Law

§ 82A101. Legislative Finding and Intent. Assisted Outpatient Treatment is practiced in forty-five (45) States as an extension of inpatient treatment, while allowing the qualified patient with a treatable mental illness or condition to receive court ordered treatment on an outpatient basis. It is also known in some states as outpatient commitment. A detailed six month study of New York's Kendra's Law documented a striking decline in the rate of hospitalization among participants. AOT recipients were hospitalized at less than half the rate they were hospitalized in the six months prior to receiving AOT (i.e., the hospitalization rate dropped from 74 percent to 36 percent). Further, when they were hospitalized, the length of the stay was greatly reduced. Studies in other states have demonstrated similar benefits.

The continued treatment and management of the patient's condition on an outpatient basis has also been determined to greatly reduce incidents of violence and arrests. Without AOT, the patient's condition often deteriorates directly due to a lack of treatment compliance and the continuing exhibition of "good" adherence to their medication treatment plan.

Another tragic consequence for many individuals with untreated mental illnesses is homelessness. At any given time, there are more people with untreated severe psychiatric illnesses living on America's streets than are receiving care in hospitals. In New York, when compared to three years prior to participation in the program, 74 percent fewer AOT recipients experienced homelessness (New York State Office of Mental Health 2005). New York and other states have incurred enormous costs in the provision of public assistance for housing assistance and re-hospitalization.

I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that the consequences of untreated mental illness are as apparent as they are devastating: homelessness, criminalization, suicide, violence, victimization, lost productivity, permanently decreased medication responses, and the incalculable costs of unnecessary suffering. Due to advances in recent years, treatment is now available that can eliminate or substantially alleviate the symptoms of mental illness for most who suffer from it. People with treated mental illness can now reclaim their lives. But first, there must be treatment.

Treatment voluntarily embraced is always preferable. However, mental illness is a biologically based disease that attacks the brain. As a result, mental illness renders many people incapable of voluntarily entering treatment because they are unable to make rational decisions or unaware that they are ill. When this occurs, such people may require assisted treatment to protect their lives as well as avoid tragic personal and societal consequences.

This Act is designed to be the legal framework for the provision of care to individuals who, due to the symptoms of severe mental illness, become either dangerous or incapable of making informed medical decisions concerning their treatment.

The procedural components of this Act is intended to create a flexible mechanism that can be used to secure treatment for those who most need it while still distinguishing those for whom intervention is inappropriate. Paramount are the strict and plentiful safeguards which this Act establishes to protect both the rights and well-being of those subject to it.

It is the intent of I Liheslaturan Guåhan to provide for a missing but necessary treatment component in our mental healthcare system. As was the case in New York City in the establishment of Kendra's Law, it took the tragic death of Ms. Kendra Webdale, a young woman who died in January 1999 after being pushed in front of a New York City subway train by a person who was living in the community at the time, but was not receiving treatment for his mental illness. On Guam, we had the recent case of ten (10) month old baby Alexya being punched in the face while in the arms of her mother under similar circumstances by a person not receiving treatment for her mental illness.

§ 82A102. This Act shall be cited as the "Baby Alexya Law".

Article 2. Definitions; as used in this Chapter.

§ 82A201. Assisted treatment: the provision of treatment, in accordance with this Act, to individuals who are either dangerous or incapable of making informed medical decisions because of the effects of severe mental illness.

§ 82A202. Assisted outpatient treatment (AOT): assisted treatment on an outpatient basis.

§ 82A203. Certificate: form filed with the court by a psychiatrist or other physician to request an assisted treatment hearing for an individual currently in emergency treatment/observation.

§ 82A204. Chronically disabled: may be shown by establishing that the person is incapable of making an informed medical decision and, based on the person's psychiatric history, the person is unlikely to comply with treatment and, as a consequence, the person's current condition is likely to deteriorate until his or her psychiatric disorder significantly impairs the person's judgment, reason, behavior or capacity to recognize reality and has a substantial probability of causing him or her to suffer or continue to suffer severe psychiatric, emotional or physical harm.

§ 82A205. Court: the Superior Court of Guam shall be the court of judicial review designated to accept petitions and certificates for assisted treatment and related filings, decide on preliminary and ex parte motions, and all other functions assigned to it pursuant to this Act.

§82A206. Danger to himself or herself: may be shown by establishing that, by his or her behavior, a person is in the reasonably foreseeable future likely to either attempt suicide, to inflict bodily harm on himself or herself or, because of his or her actions or inaction, to suffer serious physical harm in the near future. The person's past behavior may be considered.

§ 82A207. Danger to others: may be shown by establishing that, by his or her behavior, a person is in the reasonably foreseeable future likely to cause or attempt to cause harm to another. Evidence that a person is a danger to others may include, but is not limited to:

1. that he or she has inflicted, attempted or threatened in an objectively serious manner to inflict bodily harm on another;
2. that by his or her actions or inactions, he or she has presented a danger to a person in his or her care; or
3. that he or she has recently and intentionally caused significant damage to the substantial property of others.

§ 82A208. Gravely disabled, as defined in 10 GCA § 82101(c),: may be shown by establishing that a person is incapable of making an informed medical decision and has behaved in such a manner as to indicate that he or she is unlikely, without supervision and the assistance of others, to satisfy his or her need for either nourishment, personal or medical care, shelter, or self-protection and safety so that it is probable that substantial bodily harm, significant psychiatric deterioration or debilitation, or serious illness will result unless adequate treatment is afforded.

§ 82A209. Incapable of making an informed medical decision: means that a person is unaware of the effects of his or her psychiatric disorder or that the person lacks the capacity to make a well-reasoned, willful, and knowing decision concerning his or her medical or psychiatric treatment. Any history of the person's non-compliance with treatment or of criminal acts related to his or her mental illness shall, if available, be considered.

§ 82A210. Petition: form filed with a court to request an assisted treatment hearing based on the good faith belief of the petitioner that the subject of the petition is eligible for assisted treatment pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

§ 82A211. Petitioner. Shall only mean the Director of the Guam Behavioral Health and Wellness Center or his or her designee, in conjunction with the treating psychiatrist or physician who has examined the respondent, and who shall file the petition.

§ 82A212. Respondent: the person who is the subject of a petition or certificate.

§ 82A213. Severe psychiatric disorder: a substantial impairment of a person's thought processes (e.g., delusions), sensory input (e.g., hallucinations), mood balance (e.g., mania or severe depression), memory (e.g., dementia), or ability to reason that substantially interferes with a person's ability to meet the ordinary demands of living. Severe psychiatric disorders are distinguished from:

1. conditions which are primarily due to drug abuse or alcoholism, although severe psychiatric disorders may co-exist with these disorders;
2. other known neurological disorders such as epilepsy, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's disease, or Alzheimer's disease although such neurological disorders may also have psychotic features similar to those found in severe psychiatric disorders;
3. normal age-related changes in the brain;
4. brain changes related to terminal medical conditions;
5. personality disorders as defined by the American Psychiatric Association's "Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders" (APA-DSM);
6. moderate, severe and profound mental retardation as defined by the APA-DSM; and
7. pervasive developmental disorders, including autistic disorder, Rett's disorder and Asperger's disorder as defined by the APA-DSM.

§ 82A214. Treating professional, professional staff, professional person or qualified mental health professional shall mean a licensed professional qualified by training or experience in the diagnosis of mental or related illness. The following licensed professionals shall be so designated:

(1) a psychiatrist;

(2) a clinical psychologist;

(3) a certified psychiatric nurse at the Master's level; or

(4) a physician.

§ 82A215. Guam Behavioral Health and Wellness Center (GBHWC). The public agency designated by the Territory to diagnose or treat persons with mental health disorders.

Article 3. Voluntary Treatment

§ 82A301. Admission to voluntary treatment. A person in need of psychiatric care should be admitted into treatment voluntarily whenever possible.

§ 82A302. Discharge from voluntary treatment. A voluntary patient may seek discharge at any time. Unless properly invoking provisions of this Act allowing for their retention, the psychiatric treatment facility must release voluntary patients who request to be discharged within 48 hours, not including Saturdays, Sundays or holidays.

Article 4. Petition for Assisted Outpatient Treatment

§ 82A401. Criteria. (a) A person may be ordered to receive assisted outpatient treatment (AOT) if the court finds that such person:

(1) Is eighteen years of age or older; and

(2) Is suffering from mental illness; and

(3) Is an inpatient client or a client transitioning out of Mental Health Court; or

(4) Is an outpatient client or was a former client who is being treated or has been treated for mental illness at the GBHWC; and

(5) Is unlikely to survive safely in the community without supervision, based on clinical determination; and

(6) Has a history of poor treatment compliance for mental illness that has:

(i) Been a significant factor in his or her being in a hospital, prison or jail at least twice within the last thirty-six months or;

(ii) Resulted in one or more acts, attempts or threats of serious violent behavior toward self or other within the last forty-eight months; and

(7) As a result of mental illness, is unlikely to voluntarily participate in outpatient treatment that would enable him or her to live safely in the community; and

(8) Be, in view of his or her treatment and current behavior, in need of assisted outpatient treatment in order to prevent relapse or deterioration which would likely result in:

(i) A substantial risk of physical harm to the consumer as manifested by threats or attempts at suicide or serious bodily harm or conduct demonstrating that the consumer is dangerous to himself or herself, or

(ii) A substantial risk of physical harm to other persons as manifested by homicidal or other violent behavior by which others are placed in reasonable fear of serious physical harm; and

(9) Be likely to benefit from assisted outpatient treatment.

(b) A petition for an AOT order may be sought within the 72 hour hold as provided when initiated pursuant to § 82201(h) of Chapter 82, 10 GCA.

Article 5. Assisted Treatment Hearing Procedures

§ 82A501. Continuance. The court may, for good cause, order a continuance of up to 48 hours or, if this period ends on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday, to the end of the next day on which the court is open. The continuance shall extend the emergency treatment/observation period or any temporary treatment order until the time of the hearing.

§ 82A502. Location of assisted treatment hearing. For those currently admitted to an inpatient facility operated by the Guam Behavioral Health and Wellness Center, or its designee, assisted treatment hearings shall be held at the court.

§ 82A503. Attendance at hearing. The hearing shall be open to anyone unless the respondent requests that it be closed, at which point only parties and their counsels, witnesses, members and staff of the GBHWC, and court personnel may be present. However, the court may approve a motion of an individual to attend the trial upon a showing that the person has a substantial interest in the proceeding.

§ 82A505. Expert testimony required at hearing. For a hearing on a certificate, a treating professional who has examined respondent since he or she was placed under emergency treatment/observation shall testify.

For a hearing on a petition, the testimony of a treating professional who has examined the respondent more recently than seven (7) calendar days before the petition was filed is required. Such testimony may be presented by affidavit, unless respondent's counsel requests of the petitioner or petitioner's counsel, in writing, the presence of such a treating professional at the assisted treatment hearing. A copy of this request must be filed with the court and made at least 72 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, prior to the hearing. If planning to present the examining treating professional's testimony by affidavit, counsel for the petitioner must present a copy of the affidavit either to respondent's counsel or at the office of respondent's counsel at least 24 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, prior to the hearing. The procedures applicable when the respondent has not been examined prior to the hearing are delineated in § 87A701.

§ 82A506. Evidence admissible at hearing. The court may review any information it finds relevant, material, and reliable, even if normally excluded under rules of evidence.

§ 82A507. Record of hearing. No transcript is required to be kept of hearings before the court.

§ 82A508. Rights of family members. A family member may file a motion for participation in the hearing. The court may approve the preliminary motion of such an individual to participate in the hearing upon a showing that the person has a substantial interest in the proceeding. If the Psychiatrist or physician so approves, the family member may have the right to representation by counsel at his or her own expense, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, and appeal.

Article 6. Assisted Treatment Hearing Disposition

§ 82A601. Procedure after failure to comply with ordered evaluation. If the respondent presents good and credible reason why he or she was not present for an ordered evaluation, the court shall continue the proceeding and issue another order for examination. A hearing concerning an individual who fails to comply, without good reason, with a court's evaluation order shall still proceed. An individual's refusal, without good reason, to comply with an evaluation order may be used as evidence of his or her need for treatment and incapability of making an informed medical decision. If a continuance is ordered, the respondent shall be placed in a designated psychiatric facility and evaluated by a treating professional. The continuance shall be for no more than 72 hours or, if this period ends on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday, until the end of the next day on which the court is open.

§ 82A602. Consent order. At the hearing, the petitioner and respondent may proffer a mutually agreed upon proposed assisted treatment order. The terms of the order must be consistent with those of an initial order for assisted treatment made pursuant to this Act. The proposed order must be accompanied by the testimony, which may be by affidavit, of a treating professional qualifying under § 82A605 that the suggested order is clinically appropriate for the respondent. At its discretion, the court may enter the proposed order without a full hearing. Once entered, the consent order has the same effect as an assisted treatment order issued pursuant to § 82A401.

§ 82A603. Assisted treatment order. An order for assisted treatment, for its duration, subordinates the individual's right to refuse the administration of medication or other minor medical treatment to the GBHWC, its designee, or any other medical provider obligated to care for the person by the court in its order. The treatment setting shall be the least restrictive possible appropriate alternative. An initial order for assisted treatment on an outpatient basis may be for up to 180 calendar days.

§ 82A604. Services included in order for assisted outpatient treatment. An initial assisted treatment order directing care on an outpatient basis must include provisions for intensive case management. The order may also require the patient make use of and care providers to supply any or all of the following categories of services to the individual:

1. medication;
2. periodic blood tests or urinalysis to determine compliance with treatment;
3. individual or group therapy;
4. day or partial day programming activities;
5. educational and vocational training or activities;
6. alcohol or substance abuse treatment and counseling, and periodic tests for the presence of alcohol or illegal drugs for persons with a history of alcohol or substance abuse;
7. supervision of living arrangements; and
8. any other services prescribed to treat the person's mental illness and to assist the person in living and functioning in the community, or to attempt to prevent a relapse or deterioration.

Any material modifications of the provisions of the assisted treatment order to which the patient does not agree must be approved by the court.

§ 82A605. Effect of assisted treatment determination on other rights. The determination that a person is in need of assisted treatment as an outpatient, is not a determination that the patient is legally incompetent or incapacitated for any purpose other than those set out in this Act.

Article 7. Appeals

§ 82A701. Appeal or review of assisted treatment decision or status. Except where specifically prohibited by this Act, a decision of the psychiatrist or physician may be appealed to an appropriate court of record within 10 calendar days of being entered. The hearing of an appeal is de novo and must be held within seven (7) calendar days of the filing of the appeal. The subject of the assisted treatment decision, the petitioner, and family members allowed as parties pursuant to § 82A608 have the right to appeal. The court of record may review any information it finds relevant, material, and reliable, even if normally excluded under rules of evidence.

Article 8. Safeguards

§ 82A801. Thirty-day review for medication side effects. Each patient receiving medication pursuant to an assisted treatment order shall be examined every 30 days for serious side effects by his or her treating psychiatrist.

§ 82A802. Recommendation for alternative appropriate treatment. After an examination described in § 82A801 determines, in his or her clinical judgment, that the patient has serious side effects from his or her current medication shall suggest, if available, an alternative appropriate treatment that will have fewer side effects.

§ 82A803. Grievance procedure. There shall be a one-step grievance procedure made available to patients on assisted outpatient treatment status. Grievances concerning treatment may be made to the medical director of each inpatient facility. Grievances about a patient's treatment regimen may be brought by the patient or on the patient's behalf by his or her legal guardian or conservator; his or her patient advocate; any party at a hearing for the institution of or renewal of assisted treatment; or his or her spouse, parent, adult child or, if there is no relative of such degree, his or her closest living relative. The grievance of a patient whose treating psychiatrist is the facility's medical director shall be ruled on by a medical professional generally appointed for this purpose by the GBHWC or its designee.

§ 82A804. Appeal of grievance. Grievances that are disallowed may be appealed to the court, which shall hear the appeal within 14 calendar days. All rulings on appeals of grievances by the court are final. If the appeal of a grievance is denied, the patient it was brought either by or for is barred from appealing, and others from doing so on his or her behalf, any other grievances to the court for a period of 90 days. This limitation of appeal does not otherwise alter the patient's right to bring grievances in accordance with the provisions of § 82A803.

Article 9. Assisted Outpatient Treatment

§ 82A901. Enforcement of assisted outpatient treatment order. An assisted outpatient treatment order's requirement to maintain treatment can be enforced for non-compliance. On the signature of a supervising psychiatrist, the order may be enforced either at the patient's residence or a treatment center designated by the GBHWC or its designee, whichever the patient chooses. Patients who physically resist or fail to select a treatment location shall be treated at a designated treatment center.

§ 82A902. Transfer to inpatient care. The procedures used to determine whether a patient under an assisted treatment order who is on outpatient status should be placed in inpatient care are the same as those for initial placement in assisted treatment. A patient who meets the criteria for emergency treatment shall immediately be given care in an inpatient facility, but a hearing is still necessary to confirm this transfer to inpatient status. At the hearing, the court shall order the patient's transfer to or continued placement in inpatient care, depending on his or her status pending the hearing, if such treatment setting is the least restrictive form that will meet the patient's clinical needs. A patient's failure to comply with an order for assisted treatment while in the community may be used as evidence that outpatient placement is not an appropriate treatment setting for that individual.

Article 10. Review of Status

§ 82A1001. Request for review of assisted treatment status. If the time for appeal of his or her most recent assisted treatment order or renewal has expired, a patient may request a review of his or her assisted treatment status by the treating psychiatrist or qualified mental health professional. The psychiatrist or qualified mental health professional must review the request within 14 calendar days. A patient may request a review of status hearing no more than once every 180 days.

§ 82A1002. Notice of status review hearing. Notice of the status review hearing shall be mailed at least seven (7) calendar days in advance to the patient; patient's legal guardian or conservator, if known; patient's counsel, if known; an adult member of the patient's household, if known; and anyone recognized as a party at the initial assisted treatment hearing or any subsequent renewal hearings. Timely actual notice shall fulfill the notice requirement for any given individual.

Article 11. Renewals

§ 82A1101. Renewal of assisted treatment order. The process for renewing an assisted treatment order is the same as for the application for an original assisted treatment order by petition except that notice of the renewal hearing, as provided in § 82A505, shall also be sent to anyone recognized as a party at the initial assisted treatment hearing or any subsequent renewal hearings.

§ 82A1102. Duration of renewal period. The first renewal for an assisted outpatient treatment period may last up to 180 days and subsequent renewals up to 360 days thereafter. A subsequent renewal for an assisted outpatient treatment period may last up to 360 days.

Article 12. Procedures for Discharge

§ 82A1201. Discharge prior to the expiration of assisted treatment period. A patient in assisted outpatient treatment may be discharged on the signature of both the treating medical professional and the medical director of the facility. A patient under an assisted treatment order who is on outpatient status may be discharged on the signature of the treating medical professional and the director of the outpatient program.

§ 82A1202. Notice of discharge. Notice of discharge from an assisted treatment order shall be mailed at least 72 hours before the planned discharge to the petitioner; patient's legal guardian or conservator, if known; patient's counsel, if known; an adult member of the patient's household, if known; and anyone recognized as a party at the initial assisted treatment hearing or any subsequent renewal hearings.

§ 82A1203. Discharge plan requirement. Any patient placed on assisted outpatient treatment must be given a treatment plan at the time of discharge from inpatient care and placement on an assisted outpatient treatment program for a period anticipated being greater than 72 hours. An outpatient treatment plan may include, but is not limited to suggested medication; individual or group therapy; day or partial day programming activities; services and training, including educational and vocational activities; residential supervision; intensive case management services; and living arrangements.

§ 82A1204. Early discharge hearing. A hearing before the court to determine the appropriateness of the discharge of a patient prior to the expiration of his or her assisted treatment period may be demanded as a matter of right by the petitioner; the patient's legal guardian or conservator, if known; an adult member of the patient's household, if known; and anyone recognized as a party at the initial assisted treatment hearing or any subsequent renewal hearings.

Article 13. Emergency Treatment / Observation – Certification.
