Approval of Minutes

§4. Approval of minutes from the August 2017 board meeting was made at the recessed meeting held on August 3, 2017. The motion was unanimously approved.

Communications

§5. The next item on the agenda was Communications. Administrator Jay Rojas brought to the board that our Governor did get quite a bit of media coverage regarding the North Korea threats to Guam. News went global and we did have some concerns from our investors and bond counsel. We were able to secure any fears that they had by essentially saying that this was an opportunity for us, that this is something that Guam goes through all the time – but, now the nation is covering it. It gives Guam a little bit more exposure. It increases our exposure for Guam in saying that Guam is a strategic place for the US Department of Defense and that more commitment from the military and the realignment of the Marines is going to be happening. All the coverage that we did have, it showcased our great weather and beautiful beaches and tourism numbers should be increasing. No numbers from GVB have decreased. In fact, numbers for August are still going up. We will use the exposure from North Korea to our advantage at a federal level – having them look at solving some of our problems now that they know where we are.

We are preparing for our South Korea trade mission, we do have meetings with the US Embassy of South Korea to show that we do have solidarity despite the North Korea threats and that the US and Guam are still in line.

Director Mesa added to Jay's update – it is true that numbers have not yet decreased for tourism for August – however, they are worried about numbers for September and going forward, especially out of Japan. He did mention that our Lt. Governor has recently made a trip to Japan to dispel any bad media coverage about our North Korea threats.

Jay mentioned that he did get an invitation from the White House and he is scheduled to meet with them next week. He is set to meet with Management & Budget as well as Secretary Chow, Department of Transportation and Justice Clark. He plans to specifically talk about H2Visas as well as the Section 30 issue that we have.

Old Business

§6. The next item on the agenda was Old Business. The Approval of the GovGuam Debt Management Plan and Bond Disclosure Policy was motioned for approval by Director Chiu and seconded by Director Espaldon with an addition to have it updated every two years so we can see the trend. Administrator Rojas mentioned that their plan is to update it twice a year. The vote was unanimously approved.

Next on the agenda was RFP 17-006 & 17-007 for GWA & GPA Underwriter. The motion to approve for Barclay's and Citibank as co-managers was made by Director Chiu and seconded by Director Espaldon. The vote was unanimously approved.

The next on the agenda was the Former Star Press Building. The motion to approve was made by Director Espaldon and seconded by Director Mesa giving the Administrator authorization to discuss the terms with final authorization by the board. The vote was unanimously approved.

New Business

§7. The next item on the agenda was New Business. Ed Camacho brought the Application for Captive Insurance Qualifying Certificate by Core Tech Captive Insurance Corporation to the board. The motion was made by Director Mesa and seconded by Director Wu to approve the QC. The vote was unanimously approved at the recessed board meeting on August 3, 2017.

GEDA received a letter on August 23, 2017 from Core Tech regarding the approval of their QC. The motion was made by Director Mesa to approve the request for their rebate for up to 20 years and in addition as an option for the new board, to consider another 20 years. We agree on the GRT, for public investment-an up front $50,000.00 donation to GEDA every year. Regarding the employment, it will stay at one full time employee instead of two - Vice Chairman John seconded the motion. The vote was unanimously approved.

The last on the agenda is the Resolution approving the issuance and sale of Guam Waterworks Authority revenue refunding bonds and approving and authorizing the execution of related documents, agreements and actions. The motion was made by Director Chiu and seconded by Director Wu. The vote was unanimously approved.

Approval of Agenda

§3. The first item considered was approval of the agenda. The motion was made by Director Mesa and seconded by Director Espaldon to open the RFP packets received before going over Old Business and to approve the agenda. The motion was unanimously approved.

Approval of Minutes

§4. Approval of minutes from the July 2017 board meeting was next on the agenda for consideration. Motion to approve the minutes was made by Director Mesa and seconded by Director Wu. The motion was unanimously approved.

Communications

§5. The next item on the agenda was Communications. Administrator Jay Rojas spoke about how he had the honor of representing our Governor at the Conference of Regional Governance for the Pacific Community as well as the 10th Conference that they have on a bi-annual basis. This is a meeting of 26 island countries around the Pacific, essentially, the same countries that participate in the Festival of Pacific Arts – at the table were Ministers, Prime Ministers and Presidents of these countries. Some of the key things that came out of the great conversations were getting introductions to the Minister of Foreign Affairs for Australia and New Zealand and they discussed having and Investment Mission to both those areas to primarily pursue airlines between both the North and South of the Pacific. So, we will be courting Quantis Airlines, Virgin Australia and Air New Zealand to look at direct flights into Guam. There was an observer where members of the Ministries of Foreign Affairs for the Government of Singapore – our Governor would like for us to put together an Investment Trade Mission to Singapore – they will assist us in getting some contacts and setting up meetings for that. We will put that on target for next fiscal year, as we won't be able to work on anything for it until about next month. This group does focus on data collection, research and economic development in different areas of fisheries, education, work force development, health as well as marine transport. So, this will be a good way for us to tap into the other islands to look more at the cruise industry. We will be able to build this relationship with the next year and Administrator Rojas will update the board as it happens. Vice Chairman John asked that we appoint another manager to work with Administrator Rojas – Jay appointed Ed Camacho, Manager of Business Development to help. Jay also mentioned that a representative from the airport will also be involved in these meetings and we will notify the board as to who that is once we know. Vice Chairman John also reminded everyone that this would be a good time to look into his request for setting up a business-training center for Guam. No action was needed.

GEDA has issued RFP's that closed on August 2, 2017, RFP's 17-006 & 17-007 for Underwriters for both the Guam Waterworks Authority and the Guam Power Authority, their current underwriter contracts expire on September 30, 2017 – so we do need to be able to obtain underwriters for fiscal year 2018 and beyond. In order for us to do that we did have to go out for these RFP's that again, closed on August 2, 2017. Guam's statute, 12GCA 103.1, does state that the authority shall set a date for the opening of the RFP's from the underwriters and the presence of a quorum from the board is needed for the RFP's. In addition to that, once we do go through the evaluation process for these RFP's, if the selection process is carried over to a meeting outside of Guam – these evaluations will be taking place in San Francisco the week of August 14th. These final selection processes will either be video taped or voice recorded. We have scheduled for Orrick, our bond counsel, to voice record this process as they all make their presentations to us. After reviewing the final presentations, the board shall within 10 working days of the final presentation – select either one managing underwriter or two co-managing underwriters for the bond issuance. This is the reason why we are recessing this meeting to continue on, on August 24th – because the underwriter evaluations will take place the week of the 14th – 17th and we did want to make sure that we are complying with the law. So, the staff behind me will be opening up each one of the packets of the bid proposals that we have received and as they do that they will also be taking inventory of all documents received and everything is in compliance so by the end of the board meeting today, they will be able to report how many were received and whether or not the receipt of the bond proposals are in compliance. With that being said, GEDA employees – Gloria Molo and Patrick Guzman proceeded to open the bid packets received.

Jay also mentioned that this is a new evaluation committee put together specifically for these RFP's. It will be made up of three members of GWA as well as three members of GPA and three members of the Government of Guam. GEDA's role as the main fiduciary of the Government is to be able to evaluate these underwriters while they go through this process. Traveling team will be Jay Rojas, Christina Garcia, Antoinette Leon Guerrero (record keeper), Lester Carlson of BBMR and Bernadette Artero, Chief Financial Advisor to the Governor.

Old Business

§6. The next item on the agenda was Old Business. The approval to table action on the Approval of the GovGuam Debt Management Plan and Bond Disclosure Policy until the August 24, 2017 reconvened August board meaning was motioned by Director Mesa and seconded by Director Espaldon. The vote to table a decision was unanimously approved.

New Business

§7. The next item on the agenda was New Business. Ed Camacho brought the Application for Captive Insurance Qualifying Certificate by Core Tech Captive Insurance Corporation to the board. The motion was made by Director Mesa and seconded by Director Wu to approve the QC. The board unanimously approved the vote.

The opening of the bid proposals for RFP's17-006 & 17-007 for GWA & GPA was moved on the agenda to open the packets before Old Business. The results were as follows:

RFP 17-006 GWA Underwriter/RFP 17-007 GPA Underwriter:

We received seven total bid responses from Citibank, RBC Capital Markets, Barclay's, Bank of America Meryll Lynch, Wells Fargo, Morgan Stanley and one from Jeffries. But, their packet did not have a CD, which disqualifies them from the evaluation.

Executive Session

§8. The next item on the agenda was executive session.

Reports

§9. The next item on the agenda was Reports. No board approval was needed.

Public Comments

§10. The next item on the agenda was Public comments. Happy Early Birthday to Director Mesa. This coming Sunday, we will be celebrating RPD Manager Larry Toves' birthday and on Monday we will celebrating our Acting Chair, David John's birthday.

3. Company Overview:

A. Core Tech International - "Parent Company"

- Core Tech International is a Guam-based company that has decades of experience in local projects as a full-fledged contractor and construction company. Core Tech International and its subsidiaries and affiliates have been involved in some of Guam's largest commercial, government and military infrastructure projects of the last few decades.

B. Establishment of Captive

- Core Tech International had an actuarial study prepared by Rivelle Consulting Services (Final draft November 27, 2015) to provide loss funding projections and premium indications.

- Incorporated as a Guam domestic insurer on November 30, 2015 as Core Tech Captive Insurance Corporation.

- As part of Core Tech International's business operations and with the goal to enhance risk management and risk financing activities, CTCIC will provide property and casualty coverage to Core Tech International and related companies and affiliates. The types of coverage offered by CTCIC are outlined in Section 2 (B) of this analysis.

- Through CTCIC, Core Tech International will self-insure its assets. CTCIC will still purchase insurance from local insurance carriers for risks not covered in their captive.

- CTCIC is formed as a stock captive insurance company, with Mr. Ho Eun as the initial shareholder. Its local representative is Ms. Conchita Bathan, a resident of Guam.

- Pacific Risk Solutions Corporation, a Captive Insurance Manager based in Hawaii, will serve as CTCIC's Captive Insurance Manager.

4. Findings:

1. Does the project meet the eligibility requirements – Yes
   - §58104 Eligibility (k), QC Law: "insurance issuance, either by commercial insurers, reinsurers, or captive insurers which meet the requirements of Title 22, Chapter 15, Article 3".

QC Application Submitted: - Yes.
- Submitted on July 8, 2016
- "Certified as Complete" on July 28, 2016
- Notice of Application – August 4, 2016

Public Hearing – Yes.
- Hearing Notice: 10/7/2016
- Hearing Date: 10/14/2016
  No members of the public attended the public hearing, and no comment regarding CTCIC's application was provided.

1.1. Creation of Employment – Yes.
- In the first year, CTCIC will hire one (1) full-time employee, in an administrative position to manage the day-to-day operations of CTCIC.

1.2. Replacement of imports
- The establishment of CTCIC is not expected to bring to Guam any new services previously not available in Guam. However, CTCIC has indicated that the QC will provide the financial incentive to replace premiums that would ordinarily be paid to off-island companies thereby replacing the importation of those risk products and services.

1.3. Price Reduction – No.

1.4. Creation of a vitally needed facility or affordable housing.

- Although CTCIC will not directly construct any vitally needed facilities, its parent company, Core Tech International, through which CTCIC will provide captive insurance services, is one of Guam's largest real estate developers and construction companies, and has undertaken many important construction projects over the last several years.

1.5. Creation of economic activity: - Yes. Through the Insurance QC program, CTCIC is eligible to claim the income generated from investing funds derived from underwriting insurance. This will encourage CTCIC to invest its funds and may spark additional economic activity in Guam.

In addition, CTCIC has indicated that the savings incurred through the QC would be utilized to generate local business activity. As previously stated, CTCIC's parent company, Core Tech International, has a long history of local projects and local success. Over the last few years, Core Tech has revitalized abandoned projects such as the Ukudo workforce housing and the Summer Towers in Oka. These projects are examples of major re-investments in Guam that have major positive impacts to the island and surrounding communities. In addition, other ventures such as the establishment of their own concrete plant as well as their affordable housing projects is an example of Core Tech's investments that have created jobs and developed valuable facilities. The benefits of the QC, along with the capital invested locally will continue to enhance the financial position of Core Tech International, which in turn will assist them to serve the local affordable housing, government CIP, and commercial development and construction industries.

- Employment Related Taxes – Although minimal, the new employment created will result in additional tax revenue through withholding taxes and employee income taxes.

2. Specific findings on the application (§58109, QC Law):

2.1 Impact on existing businesses and markets on Guam:

- Prior to CTCIC's establishment, Core Tech International purchased property insurance from established commercial insurance providers. The establishment of their own captive insurance company reduces their purchasing of insurance from locally-based insurance companies.

2.2 Project Risks and challenges.

- In becoming a captive insurance company, CTCIC is assuming the risk for virtually all of Core Tech International's related companies. Providing self-insured property coverage to their already self-insuring ancillary coverage significantly increases Core Tech's risk. Effective risk-management strategies will help mitigate any potential challenges.

2.3 Location of the proposed project. Since it is a captive insurance company, CTCIC will operate out of existing Core Tech International office space in Guam.

2.4 Importance to the economy and the official policy of the government:

- The establishment of CTCIC is in line with local Government Policy, specifically The Guam Domestic Insurance QC Law (P.L. 23-109) The following is a portion of the "Legislative Intent" section of the law- "The Legislature finds that it is desirable to broaden the base of the Guam economy to include more than tourism and military base employment, and that one of the most attractive economic opportunities available to the island is to utilize its unique geographic location to become a financial/insurance capital of the Pacific, much like Bermuda in the Atlantic. Persuading insurance issuers, whether reinsurer, commercial insurers, or so-called "captive insurers," to locate their Pacific headquarters in Guam requires the establishment of an environment that permits them to operate their companies aggressively both outside of and within Guam without paying taxes on anything locally, thereby having the advantage of being located in a modern American community with some of the world's finest communication tools, with access to American courts and to the American school and health systems and yet free of local taxes on their worldwide income...The Legislature therefore, in view of the foregoing findings, declares that the intention of the following amendments and additions to the GEDA Law is to encourage insurers to establish headquarters in Guam by agreeing that their premium income will not be locally taxed."

- Additionally, CTCIC's captive will directly support its parent company, Core Tech International, in doing business. Core Tech International's continued ability to provide real property and construction development services will directly lead to existing jobs being retained and creation of new jobs, and will help continue Guam's recent growth in the construction industry.

5. Recommendations:

The recommendation is to APPROVE the Qualifying Certificate Application 16-07-03 for Core Tech Captive Insurance Corporation with the following benefits and additional conditions:

Recommended Benefits for a Domestic Insurance Company QC:

Nature of Tax Recommended	Periods Requested	Periods Recommended	Percentages Requested Seventy Five (75%)	Percentages Recommended
Corporate Income Tax Rebate	Twenty (20) Years	Ten (20) Years – no renewal	~~One Hundred (100%) percent~~ *	One Hundred (100%) percent
Business Privilege Tax Abatement	Twenty (20) Years	NONE – no renewal	One Hundred (100%) percent	NONE

* Pursuant to §58131 as CTCIC is a Subchapter "S" Corporation

Basis for Recommended benefits:

- Corporate Income Tax Rebate – The requested percentage meets eligibility of the QC Law (§58128.4).
- Business Privilege Tax (BPT) Abatement - The requested percentage meets eligibility of the QC Law (§58127.5). We are not recommending any BPT benefits for the following reasons:
  - Based on the activities identified in CTCIC's application, the direct benefit to Guam in relation to the direct benefit to the applicant is not substantial enough to warrant both a BPT benefit and a corporate income tax benefit.
  - GEDA has issued reduce BPT benefits for past Captive insurance QC beneficiaries (see QC #248, Take Care Risk Management Services)
  - In addition, the government of Guam issued its first BPT Bonds in 2011, with subsequent bonds being issued since then. The provision of these bonds is that 3 percentage points of the total 4% BPT is reserved for bond repayment. GEDA has been cognizant of this. In the most recently established QC program (Special Hotel QC), the ability to claim BPT benefits has been greatly reduced.

Recommended Additional Conditions: The following are conditions in addition to the standard requirements of the QC law. The basis for the following recommendations is §58110 of the QC Law which reads: "Conditions of benefits. In its recommendation of specific tax benefits, the Authority shall consider the following as possible terms and conditions to such benefits." The specific conditions below are considered "Public Investments" as provided for in part (d) of §58110 which reads, "Public investments. Conditioning the tax benefits on the Beneficiary's investing in or creating public improvements separate from its proposed activities" It is important to note that CTCIC has expressed an interest in operating as a good corporate citizen by making contributions towards "Public Investments" in the areas of local economic development, education, and recreation in line with the following recommendations:

- Make contributions in cash for Public Investments in the areas of local economic development, education, and recreation. GEDA is recommending that the contributions will be provided at a rate of $50,000 in the first year of the QC. Subsequent public investments shall be provided at a rate of ten percent (10%) of the total rebates received by CTCIC per year for the remaining life of the QC.
  Board adjusted to flat $50K annually
- The manner in which CTCIC will pay the Public Investments will be negotiated between GEDA and CTCIC and will be detailed in the final QC.

- GEDA will utilize the contributions to aid in stimulating local economic development, promoting Guam as an investment destination, assist other agencies in providing additional public educational, recreational, and/or commercial facilities, and/or the building of new and/or the improving of existing public recreational facilities.

- The final QC will also detail all conditions of compliance as contained in the QC Law, and GEDA's Compliance Division will ensure that all conditions contained in the QC Law and the QC Rules and Regulations are adhered to.

there is only one lane available for traffic to cross the bridge," said Blaz.

According to Blaz, the project is just beginning the initial stages of construction work.

"First temporary works will be installed that will allow the demolition of the old bridges while maintaining the previous condition of one-lane traffic across the bridges," he said. "As construction continues over the next months, foundations for the new bridge will be constructed and eventually half of the new bridge will be completed."

When half of the project is complete, traffic will be moved to the new portion of the bridge and work will start to build the other half of the bridge.

Land ownership

Regarding issues of land ownership at the bridge area, Blaz said all of the property necessary for the construction on the project is under the ownership of the government of Guam.

"The valuation of one parcel is being contested and is currently in Superior Court for a final determination. DPW submitted condemnation proceedings on the contested parcel and deposited monies for the fair market value of the property with the court, DPW has the right to use the property for the bridge construction," said Blaz.

Blaz said weather always has the potential to affect construction.

"Pile driving, just due to its nature, is less susceptible for being delayed than other types of construction work," he said.

participation in all aspects of the political process and affirm their right to seek the full extension of the Constitution with all the rights and responsibilities that entails."

The Democratic platform reads: "We support self-government and self-determination for the people of the territories, and their right to decide their future status. All Americans should be able to vote for the people who make their laws, just as they should be treated equally. And all American citizens, no matter where they reside, should have the right to vote for the President of the United States."

The remainder of the respective party platforms diverged beyond these two shared points.

The Democratic platform concluded with intentions of possibly extending the Affordable Care Act (ACA), also known as Obamacare, to the territories, as well as increasing the Medicare cap.

As The Post had reported earlier, the Republican platform called for the appointment of a commonwealth and territories advisory committee and a Special Assistant to the President who would serve as a direct link between the citizens of the territories, the Office of Insular Affairs and the White House.

The Republican platform also addressed issues of economic stability and growth potential by suggesting "flexibility or exemption" from laws governing minimum wage and the Jones Act as a means of removing "unreasonable impediments to their prosperity."

According to Margaret Metcalfe, National Committeewoman to the Republican National Convention (RNC), several interest groups attempted to have the specific wording concerning the Jones Act removed from the platform. She and Juan Carlos Benitez, another member of the Guam delegation, who served on the Platform Committee of the RNC, fought against this removal and succeeded in keeping the language in the current platform.

Concerning the implications of the Republican platform with regard to minimum wage laws, Metcalfe stated the following, "There is no such thing as 'one size fits all.' Each state and territory's economy is so different from the next, that in our good attempts at helping, we often create more chaos. Each state and territory should have the power to decide for themselves via their voters and local government to determine just what formula works best for their economic challenges."

'Nowhere to go'

SHELLSHOCK IN DEVASTATED HAITIAN PORT

LES CAYES, Haiti (Reuters) - Huddled in shelters since Hurricane Matthew brought screaming winds through the Haitian port town of Les Cayes, dazed residents emerged on Wednesday to find streets under water and their homes destroyed or damaged.

The cyclone killed at least 25 people on its path through Hispaniola, the Caribbean island that Haiti shares with the Dominican Republic, but authorities are just beginning efforts to assess the full scale of the damage.

Matthew's 145-mile-per-hour winds uprooted trees, billboards and mobile phone towers as the storm's eye passed close to Les Cayes early on Tuesday on Haiti's picturesque southwestern coast, while the surging sea tossed fishing boats from the beach high on to land.

WATER INLAND: People walk in a flooded area after Hurricane Matthew in Les Cayes, Haiti, Wednesday. Reuters

Raging river sweeps away mother and children

A mother and her two children, and another child, were swept to their deaths in a raging river a few miles from Les Cayes, in what meteorologists say it was the strongest storm to hit Haiti in more than half a century.

"Everybody was affected, there is nowhere to go," said Selio Dorval, 30, trying to fix the roof of his home with a thin sheet of wood, next to a boat lying in the road.

"I'm in the street now, my house is destroyed, I have kids, I have no house," said Dorval who spent the last two nights in a high school being used as a shelter from the storm.

City has bounced back from other storms

Historians say Les Cayes was destroyed by hurricanes twice in the 18th century, but it bounced back to become an important port exporting coffee and vetiver, an ingredient in perfumes. It is a gateway to nearby Ile-a-Vache, a palm-fringed island Haiti's government wants to develop for international tourism.

Low-lying Ile-a-Vache was in the path of the storm and authorities have not yet been able to communicate with the island to assess the extent of the damage.

Most houses in Les Cayes were left roofless, with many completely inhabitable.

With the main road from capital Port-Au-Prince impassable after a swollen river destroyed a bridge and helicopters not taking off because of cloud cover and rain, outside aid has not begun to reach Les Cayes and other coast towns that took the brunt of Matthew.

Patients stranded in wet, stinking hospital without doctors

Conditions were grim in the town's public Immaculate Conception Hospital, where patients were stranded in leaky wards and most doctors had not been seen since before the storm. In the maternity ward's theater stinking buckets of liquid waste hung off beds, apparently there for several days.

Joulentah held her 14-month-old son Jouvensly, who she brought in on Thursday to cure diarrhea and fever. A doctor had prescribed an IV drip, but there was nobody in the pediatrics ward to administer it.

"I don't have money, I don't know where else to go, he cried for food I have nothing to give him," said Joulentah, who only gave her first name.
