Tiffany's looks to reclaim its luster in $16.2B deal with LVMH

By Rachel Siegel
The Washington Post

The European conglomerate LVMH has snapped up the storied but diminished Tiffany & Co. for $16.2 billion, extending a stream of acquisitions that has cemented its dominance of all things luxe.

The Paris-based behemoth – more formally known as LVMH Moët Hennessy-Louis Vuitton SE – is behind 75 high-end brands spanning fashion, jewelry, cosmetics, fragrances, wine and spirits, leather goods, custom yachts and hotels. Its labels include such red-carpet staples as Louis Vuitton, Bulgari, Givenchy and Christian Dior, as well as Dom Pérignon and Fenty Beauty, the two-year-old cosmetics line by singer-songwriter Rihanna. LVMH is among Europe's most valuable companies at roughly $220 billion, and analysts say its brands are impressively profitable. The company's chairman and chief executive Bernard Arnault is among the wealthiest people in the world.

The deal announced Monday values Tiffany at $135 a share, a 7.6% premium over Friday's close. Shares closed up 6%, at $133.25.

The jeweler Tiffany has struggled with weaker-than-expected revenue; sales fell 3% in the most recent quarter, and profits were down 6%. The company attributed those declines to slowing international tourism and a strong dollar.

"Tiffany has more or less been going nowhere for quite a few years," said Mark Cohen, director of retail studies at Columbia Business School. "They're trying to go down-market in price while trying to hold onto their core legacy customer, and I don't think that's been working."

Still, the drop in receipts hasn't shattered the nostalgia around Tiffany's, long one of the best-known American jewelers. Those tiny pale-blue boxes have left a lasting mark in pop culture, from the Audrey Hepburn 1961 drama "Breakfast at Tiffany's" to the fanfare around Tiffany's flagship Fifth Avenue storefront.

CEO Alessandro Bogliolo said in a statement that Tiffany has been focused on building sustainable long-term growth. The acquisition, "which occurs at a time of internal transformation for our legendary brand," will help provide that support.

Milton Pedraza, chief executive of the research and consulting firm the Luxury Institute, said LVMH's vast portfolio and financial heft make it "a powerhouse in luxury." Tiffany "would not have been able to be as great in the next five to 10 years without the boost it's getting from LVMH," Pedraza said, especially if there's another recession.

Notice: In accordance with the order of the Banking and Insurance Commissioner, TakeCare Risk Management Services, Inc. (TIRMS) hereby announces its intention to effect a distribution of surplus in December 2019 from its unassigned surplus as of December 2019. Under applicable National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC)'s guidelines for total capital and surplus, following the distribution, TIRMS will have a total capital and surplus base which is more than the minimum required by NAIC to underwrite its risk portfolio and to meet operating requirements.

Judge wants answers about Yona mayor's ex

By Nick Delgado
nick@postguam.com

The plea deal is being finalized for a woman who is among the cooperating witnesses in the federal case against indicted Yona Mayor Jesse Mendiola Blas.

Vickilyn Ramonica Manglona Teregeyo, also known as Vickilynn Teregayo, faces two drug possession cases that were heard before Judge Anita Sukola on Monday. She again didn't attend the hearing because she lives on Saipan.

Vicklyn Teregeyo

"I do know that we have been in communication with Ms. Teregeyo. We spoke with her, and my understanding is there may be some resolution coming," defense attorney Theresa Rojas said.

"Would that resolution mean the federal government is going to take her case and these two matters would be dismissed? Seems to be the pattern," said Judge Sukola.

"No, Your Honor," said Assistant Attorney General Courtney Scalice. "There is going to be a plea in this case where some of the conditions will run concurrently with the federal case."

"My understanding is she will return to Guam at some time where she needs to perform something with the federal government," Rojas said.

"When? Do we know?" said Sukola.

"I don't know," Rojas said.

"Let's find out," Sukola said. "I need to know. I can't wait for Uncle Sam to deal with what's going on across the street."

Sukola had mentioned in court that she is aware the trial for Mayor Blas has been moved to next year. Blas' Dec. 2 trial date was moved to Feb. 4, 2020 to allow parties more time to prepare.

On Nov. 27, CNMI Chief Judge Ramona Manglona granted Teregeyo's request to travel to the Philippines for medical care. Her federal case has since been handed over from the jurisdiction in Guam to the federal court in the CNMI, court documents state.

In June 2018, Teregeyo pleaded guilty in federal court to drug use and possession of a firearm and ammunition. Teregeyo has two pending cases before the Superior Court of Guam.

Court documents state Teregeyo attempted to deliver methamphetamine to a corrections officer at the Department of Corrections.

Mayor Blas, who has pleaded not guilty to federal charges of extortion and bribery in connection with alleged drug activity in his village, served as a third-party custodian for Teregeyo at one point early on in her local drug case.

High court upholds adverse action against DOC officer

By Nick Delgado
nick@postguam.com

The Department of Corrections was not at fault for suspending corrections officer Eric Santos for 20 days after he was accused of harassment while he was off duty in 2012.

The Supreme Court of Guam issued a ruling on Monday upholding the decision by the Superior Court of Guam and the Civil Service Commission.

Santos argued that DOC management failed to prove before the CSC that his off-duty conduct was employment-related and that the CSC erred in relying on certain documents and testimony.

According to the ruling issued by justices of the high court, the Supreme Court found that the Guam Legislature had provided policy to regulate peace officer conduct both on and off duty. The court also concludes that the regulations Santos violated were sufficiently related to his employment and the high moral and ethical standards expected of him as a peace officer.

Santos, who remains employed with DOC, filed the appeal following his suspension.

According to court documents, Santos was accused of confronting another man using foul and abusive language that could have led to a fight.

He was arrested several days later for a separate harassment complaint, which the victim later withdrew, documents state.

DOC's internal affairs investigated and found that Santos had been "discourteous to the public and had engaged in miscellaneous misconduct detrimental to the service," documents state.

He was suspended for 30 days; however, the CSC reduced the suspension from 30 to 20 days.

Santos won a separate termination appeal before the CSC and was rehired at DOC after being accused in 2013 of getting into a verbal argument with a co-worker. He claimed he was wrongfully terminated and the commission overturned it. Santos was rehired in January 2018.

Proposed Issuance of Underground Injection Control System Operating Permits for Summer Towers, LLC

Public Review and Comment Period: December 5, 2019 - January 3, 2020

The Guam Environmental Protection Agency (Guam EPA) runs the Underground Injection Control (UIC) Program, as mandated by the Safe Drinking Water Act, and approved by U.S. EPA.

The Agency regulates all applicable activities as set forth in the Guam's UIC Regulations. The UIC Program requires operating permits for all existing injection wells/systems. This includes wells built prior to the approval of the regulations are still in operation, and wells/ systems constructed after the effective date of the regulations.

Guam EPA has received renewal applications from Summer Towers, LLC for injection systems located at Summer Towers, Western Boulevard, Tamuning. Summer Towers consist of four apartment towers, community center, swimming pool, and subsurface drainage systems within the ground level parking areas.

On the basis of a preliminary UIC requirement review, the Administrator has proposed issuing UIC permits to allow discharges of stormwater runoff into the injection systems.

The discharges contain stormwater runoff only. No industrial discharges or any discharges are allowed into the systems.

The permits for the applications will require:

1 - Only stormwater runoff to be discharged into the injection systems
2 - Semi-annual monitoring of water quality for MBAS, Oil and Grease, N03-N, Endrin, Lindane, Toxaphene, 2,4-D, 2,4,5-TP Silvex, Heptachlor, Methoxychlor, Lead, Benzene, Ethylbenzene, Xylene, Toluene, MTBE, Boron, COD, and pH;
3 - Assurance regarding repairs, replacement, or abandonment of the well/system in the event of failure;
4 - A laboratory analysis report of runoff water taken from the designated sampling point of the system; and
5 - Compliance with other UIC requirements.

A copy of the Draft Permits and Permit Applications for the above applicant and all other supporting documents are available for public inspection from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at the Water Resources Management Program Section of the Water Division, Guam Environmental Protection Agency, located at 17-3304 Mariner Ave., Tiyan, Barrigada 96913.

For more information, contact Ms. Susan Marquez, at (671) 300-4778 or (671) 300-4751.

Written comments on the draft permits may be hand delivered or mailed to the address below. Comments must be received by Guam EPA no later than 5 p.m., Friday, January 3, 2020. No fax submittals will be accepted.

Administrator
Guam Environmental Protection Agency
17-3304 Mariner Avenue
Tiyan, Barrigada, Guam 96913

If there are no appeals, the Draft Permits become final. Operation of the injection wells/systems identified by the applicant may proceed subject to the conditions of the permit and other applicable legal requirements.

The final decision to set conditions and issue the final permits or deny application for the permits will be decided after all comments have been considered. If no comments are received within the 30-day waiting period, the final permits shall be issued immediately after the commenting period closes.

Please bring this information to the attention of all persons who may be interested in this matter.
