Ms. Hechanova also cited the enactment of Public Law 26-66 in December 2001 that removed the rate-setting jurisdiction from the PUC and gave it to the GMHA Board of Trustees and the Guam Code Annotated 10GCA §80109 that gave the authority to the Hospital to set its rates. Record spikes in coronavirus cases, hospitalizations (Reuters) — New coronavirus cases and hospitalizations in record numbers swept through more U.S. states, including Florida and Texas, as most push ahead with reopening and President Donald Trump plans an indoor rally in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Alabama reported a record number of new cases for the fourth day in a row on Sunday. Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma and South Carolina all had record numbers of new cases in the past three days, according to a Reuters tally.

Many state health officials partly attribute the increase to gatherings over the Memorial Day holiday weekend in late May.

In Louisiana, which had been one of the earlier virus hot spots, new cases were again on the rise with over 1,200 – the most there since May 21.

Nationally, there were over 25,000 new cases reported on Saturday, the highest tally for a Saturday since May 2, in part due to a significant increase in testing over the past six weeks.

Perhaps more troubling for health officials, many of these states are also seeing record hospitalizations – a metric not affected by increased testing.

Arkansas, North Carolina, Texas and Utah all had a record number of patients enter the hospital on Saturday. In South Carolina, 69% to 77% of hospital beds are occupied, depending on the region.

While Utah's governor announced last week that most counties there would pause their reopenings, most states are not considering a second shutdown as they face budget shortfalls and double-digit unemployment. Many went ahead with reopenings before meeting government infection rate guidelines for doing so.

Fuller's family mourns, demands truth over hanging death

PALMDALE, Calif. (Los Angeles Times) – Three Mylar balloons, tethered near the top of a thin tree, stirred in the breeze outside Palmdale City Hall on Saturday. At the base lay bouquets of flowers wrapped in plastic and more than two dozen votive candles, their flames flickering.

The tree, which stands on the edge of a 2-acre courtyard known as Poncitlán Square, is now a memorial, one an angry, frustrated but mainly heartbroken crowd of nearly 2,000 dedicated to the memory of a 24-year-old black man found hanging from its branches early Wednesday morning.

"This is Robert Fuller Memorial Park from this day forward," Pharaoh Mitchell of the Community Action League shouted into a microphone. "We want justice."

The Los Angeles County medical examiner-coroner's office initially called the death a suicide. Fuller's family and civic leaders quickly pushed back, insisting that it be investigated as a homicide and demanding an independent probe and autopsy, something the city also has requested.

Thousands march in Hollywood for gay rights, racial justice

LOS ANGELES (Los Angeles Times) – Thousands of participants in an "All Black Lives Matter" demonstration rallied in front of TCL Chinese Theatre in Hollywood on Sunday before marching to West Hollywood as part of nationwide protests against racial injustice and police brutality.

The march was organized by the Black Advisory Board, made up of Black LGBTQ+ leaders and organizations. On the event's website, the board posted a statement announcing a protest "in direct response to racial injustice, systemic racism, and all forms of oppression."

Some activists gathered around President Donald Trump's star on the Walk of Fame and demanded his removal from office because of his divisive rhetoric and insensitivity to racial justice issues.

Trial set for child porn defendant

By Nick Delgado
nick@postguam.com

A former Guam National Guard sergeant facing federal charges of producing child pornography is scheduled to go to trial in the District Court of Guam this September.

Jerry Thomas Guerrero II appeared via video conference before Chief Judge Frances Tydingco-Gatewood for a status hearing on Tuesday.

Guerrero's attorney Jay Arriola told the court that the pandemic and ongoing lockdown in the state of Arizona has caused delays, adding that is where the evidence is located.

Jerry Thomas Guerrero II

It was also said during the hearing that more than half of potential jurors recently questioned have responded that they are either not comfortable or somewhat uncomfortable with reporting for jury duty during the ongoing pandemic.

"The community is not excited to come in to a non-COVID-free Guam courthouse," said Tydingco-Gatewood.

Another status hearing has been scheduled for July 8.

Guerrero faces up to 30 years in prison if convicted.

In July 2019, federal agents arrested Guerrero at the National Guard Readiness Center in Barrigada.

The arrest is a "direct result of the work being done by the Marianas Child Exploitation/Human Trafficking Task Force ... to prevent, stop and counter all threats of abuse and exploitation to children living in Guam and the CNMI," the FBI stated.

Guerrero also faced criminal charges in the Superior Court of Guam for allegedly engaging in sexual acts with a 14-year-old girl and recording videos of the acts in 2018, Post files state.

Guerrero had been in the Guard for 10 years, but his military obligation expired in July of last year and he did not reenlist, Post files state.

Court trying to locate man accused of selling turtles

By Nick Delgado
nick@postguam.com

A summons was issued for federal defendant Juliano J. Manuel, who stands accused of illegally taking and selling two green sea turtles.

His case went before District Court of Guam Magistrate Judge Michael Bordallo on Tuesday for arraignment.

It was said in court that efforts are ongoing to locate Manuel so he can answer to the charges. The hearing was continued for another 30 days.

Information filed in federal court earlier this month charged him with two counts of possession of a threatened species and two counts of sale of a threatened species.

The crime is charged as a misdemeanor in federal court. Federal and local endangered species laws state that it is illegal to capture, harass, possess, buy, sell or transport the sea turtles or any part of the turtles including the eggs, shells, shell jewelry and meat, according to Guampedia.com.

Democrats respond to criticism on Adelup breezeway

By John O'Connor
john@postguam.com

The Democratic Party of Guam has responded to criticisms over its use of the breezeway at Adelup for recent party activities.

"There have been recent concerns over the use of the Adelup breezeway for recent party events," the organization stated in a release.

"The area used is a public space available to all regardless of their political affiliation with the acknowledgement of the governor's office. The Adelup breezeway is situated between the governor's complex and public land overseen by the Department of Parks and Recreation. As a courtesy to both entities, the DPG gave notice to these offices," the release added.

Ken Leon-Guerrero, a potential senatorial candidate who has raised issues with the party's use of the breezeway, told The Guam Daily Post that the local Democratic party and Democratic leadership at Adelup and the Legislature have failed to answer questions "about their violation of the law against using a government facility for partisan political purposes."

"Their inaccurate declaration that the area is a public space available to all regardless of political affiliation was proven false when last month a group of 25 protesters were prevented from protesting on Adelup grounds by police officers backed up by a SWAT unit," Leon-Guerrero said.

"It was also proven false on Saturday, when I asked why we (Republicans) weren't invited and was informed ... that the event was for Democrat candidates only."

More than 700 sign up for June 27 islandwide cleanup

By Lannie Walker
lannie@postguam.com

The Guam Visitors Bureau and the Islandwide Beautification Taskforce will host an Islandwide Beautification Cleanup on Saturday, June 27, starting at 8 a.m.

During a press conference held at Adelup on Tuesday morning, Lt. Gov. Josh Tenorio said the cleanup indicates that Guam is ready to return to a "new normal."

Get involved

Groups, individuals and businesses wishing to participate can email the Guam Visitors Bureau at hafaadai@visitguam.org or call Taylor Pangilinan at 686-4823.

Gov. Lou Leon Guerrero announced on Monday that tourism would "reopen" on July 1. The Chamorro Village, a popular tourist spot, will likely reopen later this month, Tenorio added.

More than 700 individuals have signed up to participate in the cleanup, said Tenorio.

Sinajana Mayor Robert Hofmann said the mayors will assist in transporting the bags of trash. Hoffman suggested that those who cannot join in the GVB cleanup tidy up the areas around their residences.

Subject: APC

Yuka,

Items #3 to #16 are Interventional Radiology Services. These are the FACILITY components billed together with their PROFESSIONAL component counterparts. The rates are based from the 2020 Medicare Ambulatory Payment Classification (APC).

Here' the history of why we are using these rates for our facility charges:
When the Craneware consultants came to review our charges, they identified some charges that are below Medicare rates. Although Guam is exempted from the Outpatient Prospective Payment System (OPPS) (in most cases, the unit of payment under the OPPS is the APC), they advised GMH to adopt the APC rates to reflect the actual cost of a service/procedure.

Should you need further discussion regarding this matter, please let me know.

Regards,
Frumen
