Dear Speaker:

For the better part of the year, my Administration has done what we can to slow the transmission of the virus. While the health of the island remains a top priority, we understand that our recovery must also address the health of our economy.

All of us can agree that we cannot simply enact policies and initiatives to revive the economy but to also position ourselves to weather the next storm. I agree that the efforts that you and Senator Mary Torres have proposed, such as utilizing our important position in the Pacific and concentrating on building up our supply chain, can do just that.

The success of our island depends on cooperation, and my Administration will do what we can to assist these endeavors. Please contact my office to arrange a meeting with you and your colleagues to further discuss these initiatives and what we can do together to help our island.

Senseramente,

LOURDES A. LEON GUERRERO
